Stuck Again

The realization that a six-cent letter is going to cost eight cents somehow fails to set off any shockwaves in this day of rising costs of living.

We've used up our quota of surprise already, starting with the demise of the three-cent stamp for first class mail way back there when inflation was a fairly new word in our vocabulary.

The days when a penny saved was a penny earned sound like folklore today. Gone are the nickel candy bar, the five-cent soft drink, the triple-dip cone for a dime. Even a penny box of matches now costs two cents plain. The old five-and-dime store has become a self-service department store. And you're lucky today to find a lemondrop for what used to be the price of an all-day sucker.

So who's going to get excited about an eight-cent stamp? It's only paper. And it does give collectors something new to save.—Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial Appeal

Some Pennies He Pinched!

An Air Force investigative report has surfaced that describes a former Pentagon employee as a "penny pincher" so stingy that he drove an old Rambler. We pass this along solely because that ex-employee is A. Ernest Fitzgerald. He is the efficiency expert who was fired by the Air Force because he told the world that the CSA transport plane was going to cost the taxpayers $2 billion more than it was supposed to. The moral: The Pentagon needs more Rambler-driving penny pinchers.—Louisville (Ky.) Times

June Begins With Storm in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
June was ushered into the state with a clap of thunder, rain and hail as a line of thunderstorms moved across the state Monday night and today.

The thunderstorms reached Central Arkansas early this morning bringing strong winds and small hail to the Little Rock area at 5 a.m. The same squall line caused some wind damage at Ashdown at about 2 a.m. and produced some strong winds and hail at Russellville.

The National Weather Service says the low pressure system will continue moving westward, creating unstable weather conditions in Arkansas today and tonight.

The forecast is for considerable cloudiness today and tonight with widely scattered thunderstorms. Partly cloudy Wednesday with widely scattered thunderstorms mainly in the afternoon. The highs Wednesday will be mainly in the upper 80s. The low tonight will be in the upper 60s to low 70s.

Saigon Rebel Is Held for Murder Try

SAIGON (AP) — A leading antigovernment member of the National Assembly has been arrested and charged with attempted murder, the government news agency Vietnam Press reported today.

Ngo Cong Duc, editor of the often-confiscated newspaper Tin Sang, was accused of an attack at a dinner party on the chairman of the provincial council in his native province in the Mekong Delta. A relative told the Saigon Post that Duc had been "forced to attend the party and was provoked into a fight."

The incident occurred last Sunday in Vinh Binh Province, which Duc represents in the assembly. Vietnam Press said a quarrel broke out between Duc and Pham Huu Gia, and Gia "received serious injuries and was brought to a hospital for treatment."

Aluminum and Union Agree on Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — The United Steelworkers union and four major aluminum companies have reached agreement on new three-year contracts giving some 32,400 workers an average pay boost of about 30 per cent over the period.

A spokesman for a fifth producer, Olin Aluminum Co. in Hannibal, Ohio, said 900 USW members struck the company's plant at 4 p.m. Monday after talks broke down over local issues. A union spokesman said 1,500 USW members were on strike.

Aluminum Co. of America, the nation's No. 1 producer, said it would raise prices on nearly all fabricated products by 6 per cent starting in September. Alcoa said it would not increase the price of primary ingot.

The settlements announced here Monday were similar to the basic wage increases the steelworkers won from the major can companies in March after a 28-day strike. President Nixon criticized that agreement as inflationary.

A White House spokesman declined Monday to comment "at this time" on the settlements with Alcoa, Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp., Reynolds Metals Co. and Ormet Aluminum.

I. W. Abel, the steelworkers' president, had rejected a White House "inflation alert," claiming his members were the victims of inflation, not the cause.

Alcoa and Reynolds also reached agreement with the Aluminum Workers International Union, which represents about 16,000 workers at the two companies. Terms were described as similar to the steelworkers' pact.

The steelworkers called their contract "unprecedented" and "a substantial victory" with major breakthroughs in pension and vacation benefits as well as increased hourly wages.

The contracts cover 61,000 employees at Alcoa, 10,500 at Kaiser, 8,700 at Reynolds and 2,200 at Ormet, the union said. Rank and file ratification of the USW contract is not required.

Terms of the pacts call for average wage increases of 54½ cents an hour the first year and 15.7 cents plus a minimum 12½-cent cost-of-living boost in each of the next two years.

The minimum hourly increase will be $1 an hour over three years, and it ranges up to $1.34, or higher if the cost of living rises more than expected. The union said the average hourly wage under contracts which expired at 4 p.m. Monday was $3.67.

British Woman Begins World Flight for Scientific Purposes

By LOUIS NEVIN
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — British air ace Sheila Scott flew off today in a 34,000-mile attempt to break a series of world records as a human guinea pig for the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The flight will take her around the world 1½ times. She said her wardrobe ranges from a bikini for the tropics to three layers of clothing under an orange survival suit for polar flying.

Miss Scott, 43, hopes to become the first pilot to fly from equator to equator in a light plane.

Electrodes were strapped to different parts of her body when she took off in her blue and white twin-engine Piper Aztec from London Airport.

The propeller plane was loaded with black boxes to register and radio heartbeat, body temperature and other data direct to NASA continuously during the flight.

Soon after takeoff for Benghazi and Nairobi the plane was linked to the American satellite Nimbus so it could relay

Some of Yuba Graves Prove to Be Empty

Accused Man Death Tally Is Isolated at the Jail
Now Stands at 23

MARYSVILLE, Calif. (AP) — The man arrested in the Yuba City mass slayings sleeps alone in a small jail cell with a light burning night and day, is separated from other prisoners and is described as "very quiet, well mannered."

Juan Valjejo Corona was transferred over the weekend to the 10-year-old Yuba County jail here, a more modern facility than the Sutter County jail in adjoining Yuba City where he was booked last Wednesday.

He is in the only occupied cell among six on one wing of the ground floor felony section. In the other wing the 14 cells are fully occupied. Corona is held for such crimes as burglary, armed robbery and one attempted murder.

Undersheriff Robert Day says that because of the magnitude of the crimes he is charged with, Corona is kept separate, although not technically in isolation.

"Anytime we get a prisoner of some consequence like this, we keep him separate from the rest of the prisoners," he said. "Corona hasn't asked for anything special," Day continued. "He's very quiet, well mannered. When we asked him if he was all right, he said, 'yes'."

Like the other inmates, Corona is dressed in a one-piece white coveralls—beltless, so an inmate can't hang himself, Day explained.

The cell is 10 feet wide, 12 feet deep and 12 feet high, with three beige walls and "institutional green" steel bars and door for the fourth wall. An aluminum bunk, stool, writing table, sink, toilet and mirror are bolted securely in place.

The single light overhead burns brightly from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m., then is automatically dimmed the rest of the time to allow the prisoner to sleep and the guards to keep an eye on him when they drop by every 15 to 45 minutes.

In the morning, a guard brings in a specially designed razor—the blade won't come out—for Corona to shave, then takes it away when he's through.

He's allowed to read just about anything he wants. So far he's pored through a handful of news and sports magazines, Day said.

all of the pilot's physical reactions to a ground station in Fairbanks, Alaska, for transmission to NASA's computer center in Maryland.

"I'm not sure I want everyone to know how scared I am," Miss Scott said before takeoff. "I'm very pleased that they have given this opportunity to a British woman."

Sheila has a lot at stake, including nearly all the financial load of the flight. She had a joke-card posted to her instrument panel in front of her: "I must be successful. I owe everybody."

The Piper Aztec, "Mythre," is a successor to her single-engine Piper Comanche, "Myth Too," in which she flew around the world.

From Nairobi she will turn around and fly to Tromsø, Norway, for the takeoff across the North Pole.

This part of her trip has been criticized by aviation authorities who say her navigational equipment—a simply gyro-scope—is inadequate for the polar flight.

"It's going to be dicey. But I've got to try," Sheila said.

'Loitering' Law Damaged by High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today cut into the power of police to clear the streets of "annoying" groups of people.

In a 5 to 3 decision invalidating a Cincinnati ordinance, the court held loitering laws must be specific to be constitutional.

In other actions today, the court:

—Ruled that an Arizona law forcing a bankrupt couple to pay traffic judgments before they can drive again is unconstitutional.

—Declined to speed its consideration of a dispute over TV Channel 5 in Boston.

The Cincinnati ordinance, disapproved by a five-man majority headed by Justice Potter Stewart, had made it a crime for three or more people to assemble on city sidewalks "and there conduct themselves in a manner annoying to persons passing by."

Stewart said the ordinance was invalid for two reasons. First, he said, it is vague in that "no standard of conduct is specified at all." That is, he said, each individual officer, judge and juror is free to express his own sensitivities in deciding whether a particular group was "criminally annoying."

Second, Stewart said, the ordinance violates the constitutional right of free assembly and association. "Our decisions establish that mere public intolerance and animosity cannot be the basis for abridgment of these constitutional freedoms," he said.

The justice added: "The First and 14th Amendments do not permit a state to make criminal the exercise of the right of assembly simply because its exercise may be 'annoying' to some people. If this were not the rule, the right of the people to gather in public places for social or political purposes would be continually subject to summary suspension through the good-faith enforcement of a prohibition against annoying conduct."

Rogers said the semiannual North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) meeting to be held at Lisbon June 3-4 will also include discussion of the Berlin issue.

He said "there's some hope ... that progress is possible" on Berlin in the light of recent talks with the Soviets about the divided city.

Rogers spoke briefly to newsmen at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland as he set off for Lisbon on a 10-day European trip.

He said he expects his hand at Lisbon to be strengthened by the recent Senate debate over the proposal by Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana to curtail U.S. Forces stationed in Europe as part of NATO's defense. Rogers said this would help the allies to understand the U.S. desire that they share more of the defense burden.

The Senate debate, even though the Mansfield amendment was defeated, is expected to add impetus to allied considerations of negotiating with the Communists a mutual force cut deal.

Rogers planned during his 10-day trip to visit Paris for a meeting of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development and to meet in Brussels with new European Common Market commissioners before returning to Washington June 9.

Recent statements by Soviet Communist Party chief Leonid Brezhnev and other Kremlin leaders are being read in NATO capitals as a sign of potential serious Soviet interest in an East-West deal to curb rival forces in central Europe.

SEOUL (AP) — In the third sea battle in four weeks, South Korean forces claimed to have sunk a North Korean boat with all hands Tuesday. But a South Korean plane with seven men aboard was believed lost.

The Defense Ministry said South Korean jet fighters sank the intruding boat near Sokusan Do, an island off the southwest coast, after a three-hour chase. The 70-ton boat had a crew of 15 to 17 men, and all were believed drowned.

A South Korean air force C46 with seven men aboard was missing and believed shot down during the chase. A second plane, a supersonic F5 Freedom Fighter, also was hit by fire from the North Korean boat but made it back to its base, a spokesman said.

Cuba's Detaining of Hijacked Plane Tied to Fishing Arrests

Court Upholds Exile of Mafia to Island Despite Mass Exodus

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — A Sicilian Court of Appeals upheld today the exile of suspected Mafia leaders to two of Italy's tiny islands despite the plea of inhabitants that the gangsters would ruin their tourist businesses.

Almost to a man, the 200 residents abandoned the little Aeolian island of Filicudi over the weekend in protest after 15 Mafia suspects were landed there.

Their representatives and city officials of the main Aeolian island of Lipari, who resigned in protest, are coming to Rome Wednesday to lay their case before the government.

The Mafia men shipped to Filicudi were the second group

Italy had sent into exile. Sixteen Mafia suspects had been shipped to the volcanic rock of Linosa between Sicily and Tunisia. Two others, too ill to make the trip originally, were sent there later.

The Court of Appeals upheld the island isolation of the 33, and any other suspects the courts might decide to ship into exile under Sicily's emergency anti-Mafia laws.

Only three or four Filicudi residents remained on the island and they said they would leave soon.

The Mafia bigshots shared the island with 14 national policemen—sent there to keep an eye on them.

NEW YORK (AP) — Two unions representing 20,100 employees struck Western Union today, closing its public offices across the country and halting the acceptance and delivery of domestic telegrams, money orders and overseas cables.

The United Telegraph Workers and the Communications Workers of America, both AFL-CIO, walked off the job at 12:01 a.m. after talks had been broken off in the dispute over wages and job security. Rejecting a 20 per cent wage increase over two years, 4 per cent of which hinged on government approval of higher tariffs, the unions demanded a 31 per cent hike over two years.

"We very much regret that the unions representing our employees have chosen to inconvenience the public by calling a strike," the company president, Earl D. Hilburn, said in a statement.

"We know that our remaining differences will be equitably resolved—not on the picket line but at the bargaining table."

Although its public offices were closed, the company said it would maintain government communications services, leased private wires, the Telex and TWX teletype exchanges, various automated electronic data services and the new "mailgram" electronic message service, operated jointly with the post office.

Supervisory and engineering personnel were to fill in for striking employees on the government and business communication services, which are largely automated.

The UTW represents 17,000 teletype operators, clerks and installation and repair technicians across the country. The CWA is bargaining agent for 3,100 such workers in New York and New Jersey.

Six weeks of bargaining preceded the breakdown in the talks on Sunday.

MIAMI (AP) — A thick, foul-smelling pall of smoke drifted over Miami today as thousands of acres of dry Everglades grasslands were criss-crossed with strings of fire.

The National Weather Service, reporting no rain in sight, predicted a resurgence of recent fires stemming from South Florida's worst drought in history.

"Unless we get a lot of rain in the next two or three days we're going to be right back where we were in late April," said a National Weather Service forecaster, Gilbert Clark.

Tens of thousands of acres were burned during the peak of the drought in April, bringing the total of blackened acres to 750,000 since Jan. 1.

Clark said only six inches of rain had fallen since Jan. 1, leaving South Florida 10 inches of precipitation below normal.

"Mid-May is supposed to be the rainy season," Clark added. "But the weather routine is like winter time—dry, cold and no rain."

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Pan American World Airways spokesman says it may be that a hijacked jet with 69 persons aboard is being detained in Havana because four Cuban fishing boat captains have been arrested in Key West on charges of fishing illegally in American waters.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today it has been informed by foreign diplomats that Cuba will release Wednesday a hijacked Pan American Airways plane and its 68 passengers and crew members detained in Havana since Saturday.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said this word came from the Swiss Embassy in Havana and the Czechoslovakian Embassy in Washington. The United States does not maintain diplomatic relations with Cuba.

There had been widespread speculation that the Pan Am plane and those aboard were being kept in Havana as hostages for the release of four Cuban fishing boat captains who have been held in Florida on charges of fishing in American waters.

Ziegler, when asked whether the Cuban fishermen would be released simultaneously with the return of the American air liner, referred such inquiries to the State Department.

Some sources said they understood Cuba had not connected the fishing incidents and the hijacked air liner. The Cuban fishermen were arrested Wednesday.

The air liner was hijacked Saturday on a flight from Caracas to Miami.

A Pan American Airways spokesman said in Miami that the plane might have been held in Havana because of the arrest of the Cuban boat captains.

ernment remained silent today about its reasons for the three-day detention of the jet, Havana radio announced that another fleet of fishing boats was en route to the spot off the Florida keys where the boat captains were arrested.

Pan Am's public relations director, Robert Bohne, said Monday, "We don't have knowledge of it but we've been thinking that it might lengthen the stay of those passengers if the Cuban captains aren't released." The captains have been jailed in Key West and are awaiting trial June 7 on charges of violating the 12-mile

Turk Kidnap Pair Shot, Girl Rescued

By RODNEY PRIDER
Associated Press Writer
ISTANBUL (AP) — Police broke into the apartment where two young terrorists were holding a 14-year-old girl hostage today, freed the girl in a three-minute gun battle and wounded the two youths, one fatally and the other critically.

The girl was rescued uninjured but hospital officials reported she was being treated for shock. The girl, Sibel Erkan, was at first reported by the hospital to have been wounded.

The two youths, Huseyin Cevahir and Mahir Cayan, were wanted for the kidnapping of Israeli Consul General Ephraim Elrom.

Flushed out of a deserted mansion Sunday by police, they invaded the third-floor apartment and held his daughter captive after letting her mother and brother go.

Witnesses said an army sharpshooter opened the battle with a single shot from a nearby building. The shot hit Cayan in the face.

Detectives in bullet-proof vests and helmets charged into the third-floor apartment from fire-ladders where they had been stationed for several hours.

One police officer was slightly injured in the hand as he broke a window.

Once inside, police fired pistols and submachine guns and according to a witness "hundreds of rounds" were exchanged in three or four minutes.

Cayan was shot in the chest from a distance of four feet and fatally injured.

The girl was passed out of a kitchen window to police waiting at the top of a ladder. Clad in a dressing gown, she was taken to an army hospital and reported in good condition.

Cevahir succeeded in getting out of the apartment building but was confronted by a hostile crowd, which included many women.

He turned back from the crowd, which had broken through a police cordon, and was seized by troops and police.

The two youths had dropped a bag containing Elrom's passport and identity card Sunday when they moved from the deserted mansion to the apartment.

Elrom was kidnapped May 17 by the Turkish People's Liberation Army and murdered five days later when the government refused to release all political hostages it was holding.

Two others with Cevahir and Cayan escaped Sunday.

The two young terrorists said they would kill the girl if the police attacked them or fired tear gas into the apartment. They demanded safe conduct out of the country as their price for her freedom. Troops and police ringed the building, cut off the water, and hoped that hunger and thirst would drive the youths out.

The invasion of the apartment was a three-prong operation, with troops and police entering through the balcony, through the roof and through the door. Hospital officials said Cevahir died on the way to the hospital.

The capture of the girl and the two-day siege had inflamed public feeling and brought large angry crowds to the apartment house.

The mother of one of the terrorists appealed in vain by megaphone Monday for her son to surrender. In Ankara, a father of four offered to replace Sibel as hostage.

Meanwhile, officials in Ankara announced that Cihan Alptekin, thought to be a cell leader in the people's liberation army, was captured near the Greek border.

Police in the southeast Turkish town of Adiyaman shot and killed three other members of the liberation army and caught two others headed for the nearby Syrian border. One of the dead was Sinan Cengil, a university student in Ankara wanted for the kidnapping of four U.S. airmen three months ago.

In Istanbul, Police Chief Muzaffer Caglar was fired for "grave shortcomings in his official activities." Three days before two of his chief aides were arrested, local newspapers said they were implicated in liberation army activities.

There are between 15 and 24 right-handed persons for every one who is left-handed, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

WHO'S in charge of this lineup? Three baby owls in the temporary care of Lewis Rus, Pa., woodcutters who disturbed their natural home give the photographer Forrest Stewart the eye. The nine-week-old birds, two weeks short of flying age, are members of the great horned species, have a preference for chicken and never drink.

American fishing zone. U.S. Coast Guard officials said today no new Cuba flotilla had been sighted in the Keys area.

Havana Radio acknowledged Saturday's hijacking for the first time Monday. But it did not respond to a plea from Pan Am President Najeeb Halaby to release the Boeing 707, its 60 passengers and nine crew members.

In a Miami-monitored broadcast, the official voice of Fidel Castro's Communist regime said the plane was diverted from its Caracas-to-Miami flight by a "Venezuelan youth who claimed political reasons."

After the broadcast, Havana radio then dwelled on the fishing boat captains.

Flight 442 was commandeered by a hijacker who reportedly grabbed a woman passenger and threatened her with a knife, forcing the pilot to fly to Havana.

The plane began its trip Saturday in Buenos Aires with 21 passengers.

Thirty-nine more boarded in Caracas.

Caracas said Monday they had not identified the hijacker. They said a Cuban-American, Hugo Delgado, told them he was attacked by an unidentified man in the men's room at Caracas airport. Delgado said the attacker took his personal documents. Delgado was to have boarded the plane.

The State Department said Sunday it received word from the Swiss Embassy, which represents U.S. interests in Cuba, that "all the passengers and crew are doing well."

Officials say the plane has been held in Havana longer than any other domestic airline since the hijackings began a decade ago.

New Navy F-14 Baptist Group Entertains Lions

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A top defense official has taken a step that could lead to a cut-back in the Navy's purchase of a new fighter plane whose price reportedly has risen by about $1 million apiece.

The Pentagon said Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard has asked Secretary of the Navy John Chafee "to re-examine the development and production plans for the F14 aircraft."

Chafee expects to complete this re-examination in the next few weeks and, at that time, Packard "will determine what changes, if any, are appropriate in the F14 program," the Defense Department said.

In effect, the Pentagon leadership appears ready to take the F14 matter out of the hands of the Navy, which has been dealing with the cost-overrun problem disclosed nearly two months ago.

Although Grumman Aerospace Corp., Bethpage, L.I., was chosen by the Johnson administration to build the plane, the situation has an embarrassing potential for the Nixon administration because the development contract was signed after President Nixon took office in 1969.

Sources said Packard discussed the F14 problem last week with a high-level Pentagon committee including such senior officials as Dr. John Foster, director of defense research and engineering, and Barry Shillito, assistant secretary for installations and logistics.

Indicating the possible direction of Packard's thinking, one source said, "If you have a cost problem, the only way to handle it is to cut back."

The Navy presently plans to buy 710 of the swing-wing fighters designed to fly from carrier decks starting in 1973.

Late last year, Chafee told newsmen each F14 "Tomcat" would cost about $11.5 million. But in early April Pentagon sources said the price had risen about $1 million higher per plane, which could boost the over-all cost of the program to about $9 billion.

On April 7, Grumman said it expects to produce the first 38 planes, already under contract, for the original price set in December 1968. But the company said building additional aircraft at that price "would not be in the best interest of all parties to the contract."

Although the first F14 crashed on a test flight last Dec. 30, Pentagon officials indicated they are not overly concerned about the plane's technical capabilities. That crash has been blamed on a rupture of hydraulic lines.

7 Road Deaths in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Seven persons died in traffic accidents in Arkansas during the Memorial Day weekend holiday.

The traffic death count for the three-day weekend began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended Monday at midnight.

Two of the victims died Sunday in a two-car accident on U. S. 70 near Hot Springs. The other five were killed in separate accidents.

The victims were: — Mary A. Hall, 26, of Little Rock; killed Sunday in a two-car accident on U.S. 70 near Hot Springs.

— Ralph F. Zwerg, 32, of Jacksonville; also killed in the accident on U.S. 70 near Hot Springs.

— Charles F. Allen, 45, of Eudora, Kan.; killed Sunday in a one-vehicle accident on Arkansas 9 near Mountain View.

New Tactics Appear in Civil Rights, and Marches Are Fading

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — "What do we want?" "Freedom!" "When do we want it?" "Now!" The chant rose out of the boiling dust cloud raised by hundreds of marching feet on a back road in the South.

The time was 1965, and blacks were fighting segregation in Bogalusa, La., in one of the few ways that they had—mass marches behind big name civil rights leaders.

But now many of the famous names are gone. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Whitney M. Young Jr., to name just two. Those still around from the earlier days, like James Farmer, who led so many of those marches in the South as head of the Congress of Racial Equality, no longer operate as they once did.

The marches have faded from the black scene. The years since Bogalusa, and Selma, and Birmingham, and Albany, Ga., and Jackson, Miss., and a hundred other marching campaigns, have brought new tactics, a new style of black leadership and a new kind of black leader using different kinds of weapons.

Some of the best-known faces now are in fields that were closed to blacks six years ago.

Cleveland Mayor Carl Stokes is symbolic of one of the most important reasons for the changing leadership style, the rise of the black politician.

"Blacks who are willing to do the homework and learn the techniques will be able through politics to make just incredible changes in the whole lifestyle of black people in this country," says Willie Brown Jr., a man very much a part of the new black political style.

In a poll of national black leaders, Brown's name probably would not even be recognized by most blacks. Yet earlier this year he was voted one of the 10 most powerful movers and shakers of San Francisco.

As chairman of California's Assembly Ways and Means Committee, Brown has a good deal of control over what goes into—and comes out of—Gov. Ronald Reagan's budget, and he opposes some of the governor's key programs.

Now there are attempts to do on a national scale what Willie Brown, Mayor Charles Evers of Fayette, Miss., Stokes, Bond, Alabama dentist Dr. John Cashin, who ran for governor against George C. Wallace, and hundreds of other black politicians have done on a local scale.

The business of fashion is a fickle one. And you never know for sure what's going to happen next. Or... how long it will last. That is why it is kind of important to select a shop which is fashion-minded, willing to change, looking for new things, always making a study of the market and... passing along the news to you.

As has every other shop owner in the country... we have been to market. We are buying for Fall. But... we are also filling in for summer. You can see that we have to do a bit of thinking to remember what season it really is... a buyer always buys fur coats in the summer and bathing suits in the winter... Is it any wonder we sometimes seem confused?

Anyway and anyhow, we had fun at market and we have the goods to show for it.

You will like the little long dresses to wear after five at the Country Club, priced from $24. You will also like the costumes to wear to that June wedding, whether you are a member of... a friend or even an enemy! Like Clark designs them... they are absolutely lovely.

We have sportswear, both long and short, hot pants, slacks, dresses to wear from morning until late night... we invite you to see them all... at

Friday Music Club

Eleven were honored at a Past-Presidents' Tea which the Friday Music Club held on May 28 in the home of Mrs. Clarence Geist with Mrs. Paul Henley and Mrs. Donald Mushtare, co-hostesses. They were Mesdames C.C. McNeill, H. A. Spraggins, B.W. Edwards, B.C. Hyatt, John Gardner, Jr., Jewel Moore, Jr., Arch Wylie, T.E. Hays, Jr., Sam Strong, Jr., and Clarence Geist, who had each served as President of the Friday Music Club, and Mrs. Harry McLemore, a past-president of a music club in Orange, Va., and a local club member now.

The current president, Mrs. Helen Hatch, paid tribute to the honored guests and told that the national music federation was organized 73 years ago, while the Hope club was formed in 1929. Roses decorated the home where fond memories were recalled.

For the program, though, Mrs. C.C. McNeill had "A Look to the Future" with special guests who are members of the Junior Music Club. The performers and their selections were: Tommy Hays, "Blue Cowboy" and "Ode to Joy"; Stephen Drake, "School Band" and "Parrakeet"; Alan Moore, "Minuet in G" and "Cossack Dance"; Beth Gilbert, Junior Music Club President, "Bartok, major and minor" and "Improvisation"; Mona Rowe, "Last Spring."

After Mrs. Geist told the history of the Hymn of the Month, "O God Our Help in Ages Past," the group sang it. In addition to the Junior Music Club members and 28 Friday Music Club members, other guests at the tea were Mrs. Frances Reynerson of Amarillo, Tex., Mrs. Wade Gilbert and Mrs. J.W. Rowe.

Pink carnations and daisies centered the table where pink fruit punch was served with mints, nuts and cake squares topped with tiny music notes.

Marlar-Hickey Wedding

Miss Allie Marlar of Hope and Joe Alfred Hickey of Emmet were united in marriage on Friday, May 28 in Idabel, Okla. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William D. Marlar, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hickey of Emmet.

The Rev. Ralph Gibson, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene of Idabel, performed the single ring ceremony in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Overstreet.

The bride wore a beige suit with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of white orchids. Her sister, Mrs. Overstreet, served as matron of honor, and Mr. Overstreet was the best man.

After the wedding, a small reception was held in the home. The newlyweds will be at home on the Spring Hill Road.

Parties for bride-elect Miss Allen

Miss Patricia Allen, bride elect of Jessie Lynn Wilbanks, was complimented with a bridal shower on Saturday evening May 15th in the home of Mrs. R.H. Tye Sr. in the Bodcaw community. The honoree wore a dress of orchid crepe, and was presented a bridal corsage by the hostesses. Mrs. R.H. Tye, Sr., Mrs. Labe Haynie, Mrs. Joby Cornelius, Mrs. Larry McDonald, Mrs. Baker Butler and Miss Wanda Baker.

After Miss Allen opened her many useful gifts the guests were invited into the dining area and were served individual cakes and punch, nuts and mints. The out of town guests included the groom elects mother, Mrs. Loyd Wilbanks, his sister, Margaret Ann and a sister in law, Mrs. Jerry Wilbanks and daughters Sheryle and Donna, all of Benton.

A party was also given for Miss

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

A TEENAGER'S ANSWER TO PROTESTERS

Dear Helen:
I'm 16 and proud to be a member of my generation, but I'd like to answer three major teen protests that often appear in your column.

First—to the kids who complain that store clerks are mean to them:

Are you sure you don't give the clerks reason to put you down? Or watch you suspiciously? Or wait on you last? Have you ever tried smiling at the person behind the counter, or saying something friendly? I have, and it works fine. Just remember she may have had cranky people to contend with before you came in, so leave her smiling! You'll hit a few "impossibles," but with most people, what you give is what you get.

Second—to students who think they don't deserve homework because office workers don't have any:

A teacher has only 50 minutes a day to teach one course. She can get you started, but YOU have to take it from there, with individual work. She spends a lot of extra hours correcting your home assignments, and not many are simply "busy work."

An employee who doesn't put in overtime and spend off-hours thinking about his job isn't likely to get ahead.

Third—to those who would put down the Establishment. Are you smart enough to replace it? Protest is fine if you've got Allen, in the home of Mrs. Roy Cheatum in Benton, Wednesday evening May 26th, Miss Allen chose for the occasion a blue and white crepe and was presented a white carnation corsage.

After the guest were introduced which included the bride's mother Mrs. J.D. Allen the honoree opened her lovely gifts.

Refreshments of cake and punch were served from a beautiful table over laid with a lace cloth.

TENNIS GRAND PRIX

something better to offer, that won't get us in an even bigger mess. But constant complaints (riots, bombings, take-overs) only make solutions that much harder to find. Why can't we all listen to each other? It's good to point out what's wrong, but only if we work like crazy to right it.

ANN T.
Dear Ann:
Thanks for your good letter. What we need is intelligent protest, educated listening, cooperative effort, and a lot more appreciation for what's RIGHT about the world. Recognizing problems is the first step toward solving them, but it takes optimism as well as awareness and work to really change things. Right?—H.

Dear Helen:
I was so-o-o happy when my boy friend got a special pass to come home from Army camp—until he told me how he got it. He handed his superior officer this sob story about his girl being pregnant and he had to get there right away so he could marry her. I'm the girl, and I'm not pg, and we don't plan to marry until he's out of the Service!

I asked him how he'd explain that the wedding didn't come off and he said, "Don't worry, I'll manage." Knowing my boy friend, it will be a great story. What if at some time I happen to meet the man he tells it to?—N.O.T.

Dear N.:
...Then you'll meet either a nice guy who knows he is being conned but still gives leaves to homesick soldiers; or a gullible officer who actually believes that well-worn pitch for an emergency pass.

Whichever, you have nothing to worry about—and aren't you glad!—H.

Dear Helen:
I like school a lot, but gosh do we have to be told how to dress. We can't even wear sandals without hose, and boys can't wear them, period. Wearing shorts is a crime—and it's hot here! The guys must have their hair cut short, and the girls can't wear pants even in winter. I thought a Supreme Court ruling made those kinds of goofy laws illegal.—MAD

Dear Mad:
...So says a recent issue of Co-Ed Magazine. Why don't you look it up in your school library and leave the article on your principal's desk?—H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Des O'Connor, the British music hall comedian and top-10 singer, strolls back into the nation's living rooms Wednesday to start his second—and last—stint as summer replacement for NBC's "Music Hall."

It reflects not at all on O'Connor's ability, charm or the quality of his London-made series that he is not on his way to becoming a hot-weather perennial.

"Music Hall," after years as an hour of variety with the same sponsor—Kraft—will convert into a series of occasional specials next September. Thus, Des' career on the program will have a technological wind-up, or at least an interruption. Meanwhile, he has built a body of American fans and with all the things he has going for him in Britain—a long-playing TV series, a film to be made, hit records and albums and all the music hall and club dates he can handle—he is not downcast.

"We've done five shows of the summer series," he said, "and we're flying back home to finish up the rest. I learned a lot last season and I think this bunch of programs will be much better."

"It seems to me now that the old ones did not permit me to be as English as I really am. I guess we were afraid the Americans wouldn't like that. After all, that's what I am, and I also think the audience will understand."

"Worse, we'd tape one show—do over anything when there was a small mistake—and then cut it up in bits and put it together in another sequence. It was confusing, particularly with me running out constantly in different clothes when there obviously had been no time to change. Then I'd pop up again in the first outfit. Confusing. This time we're taping straight through, and leaving in the mistakes and showing it without mincing it up."

The programs last summer

"PHANTOM" is a dental student's dream of the perfect patient — a full set of teeth but no flinching or back talk. actually were very pleasant, light diversion. O'Connor, a smiling friendly man, has a deft way with comedy and a very agreeable singing voice.

Des and his attractive wife, Gillain, were in the United States for a few crowded days to promote the series. They made seven television appearances—including Johnny Carson, David Frost and Mike Douglas—not counting a quick walk-on and introduction during a network game show.

O'Connor found that many people recognized him. He was virtually unknown during a visit a year ago.

AN EXPENSIVE FOE

BROOKLYN, N.Y. (AP) — It would cost the government about $20 billion a year to start reversing the course of pollution in the air, says Robert J. Day, chairman of the board of the Northeast Pollution Control Corp.

The impurities resulting from incinerators in apartment buildings, schools, hospitals and industrial plants are the most difficult to contain or combat, says Day.

U.S. Strong Challenger of British

By THOMAS A. REEDY
CARNOSTIE, Scotland (AP) — This was the day when the men were being separated from the boys in the 1971 British Amateur golf championship and the wise men of the game still regarded a powerful American challenge as containing the possible winner.

"I wouldn't bet against them," said Norman Mair, a Scottish golf expert.

The Americans, who lost the Walker Cup to the British Isles at St. Andrews last week for the first time in 33 years, blasted around Carnoustie's 6,828-yard par 72 course yesterday in mild, sunny weather, as though they owned it.

The only real casualty was Bill Campbell, 48, of Huntington, W.Va., who lost the first four holes and wound up beaten by 4 and 2.

The other Walker Cuppers worked their way into the second round.

The original field of 250 was cut back by the 80 matches of the first day, but two days are required to complete the first round.

The winning ten men of the British Walker Cup team are untouched by defeat. Apart from Campbell, the Americans have a nine man challenge. Outsiders—and there are another 27 Americans in the competition—are given small chances.

By nightfall, all the American Walker Cup stars will have been in the competition and the results will give some indication of how this marathon championship—now 86 years old—is going.

Two Americans who coasted through the first round captured the attention of the British.

Tom Kite of Austin, Tex., rattled off his 7 and 6 victory and Jim Gabrielsen of Atlanta, who won 4 and 3. Both bettered Carnoustie's par.

Gabrielsen, 28, is new to international golf, and was regarded as a long shot. But young Kite, a pink-cheeked, cool Texas, was one of the top favorites at 10-1.

Still to be heard from were U.S. Amateur champion Lanny Wadkins of Richmond, Va., and Bill Hyndman, 55, of Philadelphia, who has been a finalist in this competition three times in 12 years.

Choice in Belmont Canonero

NEW YORK (AP) — Many in the holiday crowd of 60,147 at Belmont Park Memorial Day got a close look at Canonero II, the Venezuela-owned colt who will try to sweep the Triple Crown by winning the Belmont Stakes on Saturday.

Trainer Juan Arias paraded the winner of the Kentucky Derby and The Preakness around the tree-lined paddock to get him used to his new surroundings under race conditions. The colt showed no nervousness as he walked around with his ears pricked to the applause of the spectators.

"He is a fit horse," said Arias who discounted again that Canonero is bothered by a skin rash and an infected right hind hoof.

Veterinarians who have examined the colt say the rash is of "no consequence and is clearing up" and that the infection "is minor and has responded to treatment."

Jersey Derby Won by Bold Reasoning

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Bold Reasoning won the $134,400 Jersey Derby Monday but his trainer still feels the unbeaten colt isn't ready for the 1½ mile Belmont Stakes.

"Not a chance," said Trainer Nick Gonzales when asked if Bold Reasoning would be supplemented for the June 5 Belmont and a shot at Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner Canonero II.

"He (Bold Reasoning) has just come out of a tough race and he deserves a rest. There isn't a chance we'll out him in the Belmont."

Bold Reasoning, winning his seventh straight race, had no trouble in his first run around two turns and more than a mile as he beat Pass Catcher by half a length in the 1½ mile Jersey at Garden State Park.

Ridden by jockey Jacinto Vasquez, Bold Reasoning was never worse than third. He took the lead with one sixteenth to go and outgamed October House Farms Pass Catcher in an exciting stretch duel.

He earned $87,360 in winning his seventh race for co-owners William Kosnick of Detroit and Charles Hargrove of Miami, Fla.

Bold Reasoning went off the even money favorite and returned $4 to those who backed him in a closing day crowd of 40,020.

The son of Boldnesian-Reason To Earn raced the 1½ miles in 1:49 3-5 over a track listed as good after an all night rain that lasted into early afternoon. He beat a field of seven at equal weight of 126 pounds.

At Belmont, where 60,147 wagered $5,844,880, Tunex, $10.20, charged down the middle of the stretch and beat Protanto by a fingertip in the $121,600 Metropolitan Handicap.

Divide and Rule, $5, won the Lakeside Handicap at Hollywood where 62,383 bet $5,527.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR. Printed by Offset

785, a California state record. Mr. Pow Pow, $5.40, scored in the North Shore Handicap at Arlington Park and Damage Control, $26.80, won the Oakland Handicap at Golden Gate Fields.

Our Cheri Amour, $6.20, and Alma North, $6, won the split divisions of the Open Fire Stakes at Delaware Park and Who Behave, $9, captured the Tomasello Handicap at Suffolk Downs.

Bob Charles Wins Charity Golf Meet

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The only left-hander to the post, New Zealander Bob Charles walked off with a thoroughbred race horse Monday in a one-day charity tournament loaded with big-name golfers, other athletes and entertainment celebrities.

Charles shot a 68 to 583 the course record at the Hurstbourne Country Club and nudge Ohioan Tom Weiskopf by one stroke. At 70 were Lee Trevino, George Archer and Bob Rosburg, with Bob Murphy, Gary Player and four others at 71.

Top celebrity was Archie Campbell of television's Hee-Haw, with a 73.

Mickey Mantle, Joe Louis, Johnny Unitas and other celebrities played in foursomes with the pro golfers and amateurs who pitched in $2,000 apiece to rub elbows with the big names.

Proceeds from the tourney, which drew 12,000 playing patrons, will go to the Kosair Crippled Children's Hospital.

Charles accepted the yearling race horse, but said he wasn't sure what to do with it. "The area where I come from around Christchurch, New Zealand, is renowned as a breeding country," he said, "but I've never ridden a horse in my life."

Weiskopf, who could have had a super round but for missing four putts of five feet or less, said he wasn't disappointed at not winning the horse.

AUTO RACING stands more things than hair on end. Finding out the hard way in recent races were drivers Ralph Ligouri, left, Gregg Young, center, and Chuck Amat.

Bunning Passes Cy Young Mark

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
It was Memorial Day and Jim Bunning went to work. But the Philadelphia Phillies' pitching dean had a picnic anyway.

Bunning notched five strikeouts Monday as the Phillies beat San Diego 3-1 in the opener of a doubleheader and buzzed past Cy Young into second place on the all-time list with 2,823 victims.

"I know I have no shot at Walter Johnson's record," said Bunning, who's still well behind the Big Train's fabulous 3,508 strikeouts. "In fact, I'm even surprised that I broke Young's record of 2,819. When you stop and think about it, I've never been an overpowering pitcher like Sandy Koufax or Bob Gibson."

"The most batters I ever struck out in a game was 14," Bunning wasted no time in baring past Young. He struck out Garry Jesteadt to tie the mark, then broke it by fanning slugger Clarence Gaston in the first inning.

The Padres earned a split of the holiday twin bill with a 6-3 victory in the second game. In other National League action, Pittsburgh hammered Chicago 6-0; Houston slugged Cincinnati 4-1; San Francisco turned back New York 2-1 in 11 innings; St. Louis nipped Atlanta 3-2 and Los Angeles stumped Montreal 4-0.

In the American League, Minnesota topped Detroit 6-2; Washington ripped California 4-0; Kansas City took a doubleheader from Boston 7-3 and 4-1; New York beat Oakland 5-3 in the opener of a twin bill and the A's took a 6-3 decision in the second game; Chicago topped Baltimore 1-0 in the curtain-raiser and lost 11-3 to the Orioles in the nightcap of their doubleheader and Milwaukee nudged Cleveland 6-5.

Bunning, in his 16th major league season after hitches with Detroit of the American League and Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Los Angeles of the National, didn't remember his first strikeout.

His toughest strikeout? "Nellie Fox," said Bunning. "It took me 13 years before I got him."

The 39-year-old Bunning, along with Young the only pitcher to have 100 victories and 1,000 strikeouts in each of the American and National leagues, was given the ball after the historic, first-inning strikeout and received an explosive ovation from the crowd at San Diego Stadium.

Rookie Willie Montanez' two-run double in the ninth inning snapped a 1-1 tie and gave the victory to Bunning, who had last-inning relief help from Darrell Brandon.

San Diego sandbagged Philadelphia's Barry Lersch with a four-run first inning in the second game as Ivan Murrell blasted a three-run homer and Bob Miller pitched five innings of shutout relief to give the Padres a split.

Steve Blass surrendered only five hits in pitching Pittsburgh over Chicago. Blass, never in serious trouble, got home run support from Willie Stargell and Richie Hebner.

Stargell's 17th homer highlighted a two-run second and Hebner slammed his fifth circuit in the third inning to give Blass a 3-0 cushion.

Larry Dierker won his ninth game in 10 decisions by spacing seven hits and Cesar Cedeno knocked in three runs with a two-run homer and double as

Standards Are Set for Golf Charity

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Amateur golfers across the nation have targets of par and one under par to shoot at for competition concluding June 14 in the National Golf Day charity.

Those standards were set Monday by burly PGA Champion Jack Nicklaus and Women's Open Queen Donna Caponi in a challenge to Warson Country Club's sprawling course.

Nicklaus, admittedly rusty after a three-week layoff from the golf tour, scrambled back over the final nine holes to shoot 36-36—72 and beat Englishman Tony Jacklin's 33-41—74.

Miss Caponi, whose putting was picturesque, compiled a 34-39—73 in bettering the 40-38—78 round turned in by ladies PGA Champion Shirley Englehorn.

Amateurs, in order to qualify for key rings and accolades, must fire under the scores with the aid of their handicaps.

"I hope I can play myself into shape before the U.S. Open," said Nicklaus, who missed a 14-inch putt at No. 10 on Monday before capitalizing on a sour Jacklin streak.

Nicklaus last competition was at the Byron Nelson Golf Classic in Dallas three weeks ago. The blond blaster plans to play in the Atlanta Golf Classic this week before appearing in exhibitions prior to the June 17-20 Open in Ardmore, Pa.

Houston tripped Cincinnati.

Cedeno crashed his second homer of the year with Joe Morgan aboard via a single in the inning, then knocked in Roger Metzger with a double in the seventh.

Willie Mays, whose eighth-inning homer tied the game, 1-1, raced home from third on Tito Fuentes' sacrifice fly in the 11th to carry San Francisco past New York for the Giants' fifth straight victory.

Mays drew a walk off Mets' starter Jerry Koosman, took second on a sacrifice and advanced to third as Alan Gallagher beat out an infield hit off reliever Danny Frisella. Then Fuentes lined out to Tommie Agee in right field to score Wondrous Willie.

Jose Cardenal drove in the winning run with a two-out single in the eighth inning to pace St. Louis over Atlanta as Louis Brock's 26-game hitting streak ended. Brock struck out twice and bounced out two times in four appearances.

Baltimore Gains on Red Sox

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
June is busting out all over and so is Don Buford.

Baltimore's pint-sized outfielder belted two home runs and tried for one pitcher and one fan in the Orioles' 11-3 romp over Chicago in the second game of a Memorial Day doubleheader.

The White Sox won the opener 1-0 on Tommy John's five-hitter and the split enabled the Orioles to move within 1½ games of first place Boston in the American League East as the Red Sox took a 7-3, 9-4 doubleheader whipping from Kansas City.

Elsewhere in the American League Monday, Minnesota clipped Detroit 6-2, Washington shut out California 4-0, Cleveland lost to Milwaukee 6-5 and New York split a doubleheader with Oakland, winning 5-3 before losing 6-3.

In the National League, Pittsburgh shut out Chicago 6-0, Houston trimmed Cincinnati 4-1, San Francisco edged New York 2-1 in 11 innings, Philadelphia split a doubleheader with San Diego, winning 3-1 before losing 6-3, St. Louis whipped Atlanta 3-2 and Los Angeles defeated Montreal 4-0.

Buford sat out the first game of the Orioles' Memorial Day doubleheader against the White Sox with John, making his first start since May 7. A sixth inning unearned run driven in by Ed Herrmann stood up for the victory.

But the little outfielder made it a memorable day in the nightcap. He was hit by a Joe Horlen pitch in the first inning and then ripped home runs in the third and sixth. When he came to bat in the eighth, reliever Bart Johnson hit him in the back and Buford went after the pitcher.

Both benches emptied but no punches were thrown and the umpires did not eject either player. But, an inning later, Buford was in the on-deck circle when he became the center of another battle.

"Kids in the stands nearby started throwing apple cores, paper cups and other things at me," said Buford. "I went over to warn them. Then some fan jumped me from the rear."

The Orioles ran to Buford's defense and when the mob scene was unraveled, Buford had been ejected from the game and a fan was taken by police to the Stadium first aid room, suffering from a bloody nose and mouth. He later ran out of the room, and could not be identified.

The Red Sox weren't quite as lucky as Buford. They were hit over and over, mostly by Amos Otis but also by Paul Schaal and Cookie Rojas as Kansas City swept the doubleheader.

The Royals became the first visiting team to win a doubleheader at Fenway Park since August 24, 1966 when another Kansas City team—this one nicknamed the A's—turned the trick. Otis drilled a home run in each game, added a pair of singles and drove in six runs for the day. Schaal had a pair of key hits in the first game and a big double in the four-run third inning of the nightcap and Rojas rifled a three-run homer in the second game.

Harmon Killebrew walloped the 495th homer of his career—a three-run shot in the eighth inning that wrapped up the Twins' victory over Detroit, spoiling the homecoming of Billy Martin, the former Minnesota manager and now boss of the Tigers.

Jim Kaat earned the victory, scattering eight hits and besetting Mickey Lolich, 8-4.

Washington used three pitchers—Mike Thompson, Denny Riddleberger and Casey Cox—to three-hit California. Thompson worked the first three innings before reinjuring a dislocated finger. Then Riddleberger took over until the ninth with Cox finished up.

Larry Bittner had three hits and Bernie Allen contributed a homer to Washington's attack.

Johnny Ellis rocked a three-run homer to break a tie and move New York past Oakland in the first game of their doubleheader. Fritz Peterson earned the victory and Jim "Catfish" Hunter was tagged with the loss, ending an eight-game winning streak.

In the nightcap, John "Blue Moon" Odom earned his first victory of the season with Oakland cracking a tie on successive run-scoring singles by Tommy Davis, who had five hits for the doubleheader, Sal Bando and Angel Mangual.

Ted Kubiak's home run in the last of the ninth inning powered Milwaukee past Cleveland. Kubiak's one-out shot off reliever Phil Hennigan snapped a 5-5 tie.

Milwaukee had tied the game without a hit in the seventh as Johnny Briggs walked, moved to second on a sacrifice, went to third on a balk and scored on a bounce.

Field of 150 for Atlanta Classic

ATLANTA (AP) — The record field of 150 for the fifth annual Atlanta Golf Classic is complete.

Rod Curl and Terry Wilcox led a field of 35 qualifiers for the tournament Monday, sharing medal honors with five-under-par 67s at the Atlanta Country Club.

A field of 112 hopefuls shot for the 35 available positions. It took a par 72 or better to qualify.

Jack Nicklaus, current PGA champion and winner of three tournaments this year, leads the classic field which tees off Thursday. Gary Player also is in the field for the $125,000 event.

A celebrity pro-am gets the action started Wednesday.

Top Jockey Gives Horse Derby Chance

EPSOM, England (AP) — Lester Piggott, Britain's greatest jockey in recent years, bids to win his sixth English Derby Wednesday on a horse that has yet to be first past the post.

No maiden has won the premier English classic since 1887 and if Piggott wasn't riding him The Parson would probably be a complete outsider.

But magic of Piggott's name has lured the punters into backing his mount down to second favorite in the 21-horse field at 8-1.

Hot favorite at 3-1 is Mill Reef, owned by Paul Mellon, the business executive from Pittsburgh.

Mill Reef will be ridden by Geoff Lewis, currently the leading contender to take Piggott's crown.

Both jockeys have been discussing their chances for the $147,900 event in newspaper interviews.

Piggott, as usual, was tight-lipped about his own chances, but voiced surprise that The Parson was so highly rated by the punters.

L.R's Arroyo Called Up by Cards

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rudy Arroyo, left-handed pitcher for the Arkansas Travelers, has been called to the parent St. Louis Cardinals.

He will join the Cardinals in Pittsburgh today.

He is a replacement on the Cardinal roster for Bob Gibson, who was placed on the disabled list because of a muscle tear suffered last Saturday night.

Arroyo, 20, learned about the action Monday night.

"I was stunned," Arroyo said. "All I could do when they told me was sit there and shake my head."

Arroyo has a 6-2 record.

Safe Boating Quiz

Q. Should a skipper keep on the inside or outside of a turn when navigating a sharp bend on an unfamiliar river?

A. He'll probably be better off to keep on the outside of the turn, according to boat safety experts. Under ordinary circumstances, slower moving water on the inside of a bend often allows mud banks and sand bars to build up. In contrast, swifter flowing water on the outside of the bend usually helps deepen the channel.

U.S. Tennis Stars Aim at Final Round

PARIS (AP) — With two American players already in the quarter-finals, three more United States entries try today to force their way into the final eight of the Men's singles in the French Open Tennis Tournament.

Arthur Ashe of Gum Springs, Va., and Frank Forehand of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., won their fourth round matches Monday. Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., was tied 4-4 in the first set with Patrice Dominguez of France when rain interrupted their match on the red clay center court at Roland Garros Stadium.

The finish of the Smith-Dominguez match was set for today on the center court, at the same time Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., meets Istvan Gulyas of Hungary on a side court.

Smith is seeded No. 6 and Richey No. 4.

Bob Lutz of Los Angeles, seeded No. 9, goes against Patrick Proisy of France on the Center court.

Linda Tuero of Metairie, La., one of the surprises of the tournament, meets Marijke Schaar of Holland, an ambidextrous player, in a quarter-final match.

Citizens Beat Blevins in Babe Ruth

In Babe Ruth League play Monday night Citizens Bank got back in the win column with a victory over a tough Blevins team 9 to 1. The game was scoreless for 4 innings with both teams playing heads-up baseball. Citizens scored 4 runs in the top of the fifth and added 5 runs on 4 hits in the sixth. Blevins only run came in the bottom of the 5th when Scott hit a double to score Spears who had walked. Jim Rhodes and D. Hughes shared the pitching chores for Citizens and Yates was on the mound for Blevins.

The second game of the night was close all the way with Merchants coming out on top 3 to 2 giving Corn Belt their first loss of the season. Merchants scored 1 run in the first, Corn Belt tied it up in the top of the 3rd, Merchants added another run in the bottom of the 3rd, only to have Corn Belt tie it up at 2 all in the seventh. Merchants pushed across the winning run in the bottom of the seventh. Bruce Joyce pitched a 1 hitter and was relieved in the 7th by McCorkle. Huddleston allowed only 3 hits for the win. Friday night Merchants defeated First National 7 to 3 and Anderson-Frazier posted their 1st win beating Citizens 7 to 6.

Travs Add to Columbus Loss Streak

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers extended the Columbus Astros' losing streak to 14 straight games by winning Monday night's match 5-4 at Ray Winder Field here.

Arkansas entered the bottom of the ninth inning trailing 4-3. A single by Tom Heintzelman, a sacrifice, and a single by George Roque that was booted in the outfield let Heintzelman score the tying run.

A squeeze bunt by Don Kirland brought home the winner.

After Monday's win, Arkansas retained its one-game lead over second-place Memphis in the Dixie Association Central Division.

Canonero No Name for Child

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) — The name Canonero II is all right for a horse, but not for a child.

Cruz Paredes, a farmer, tried to name his baby boy after the Venezuelan-owned winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness. But a Merida state clerk rejected his request, saying the name wasn't fit for a child.

Paredes then changed his son's name to Gustavo Franklin Paredes, after Gustavo Avila, the hockey who rode Canonero II.

Will Try to Stop Unser at Milwaukee

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — America's big league auto racers, wondering what it will take to stop Al Unser's surge to victory in 12 of his last 15 starts on the USAC championship trail, will give it another try Sunday at Milwaukee.

Unser's $238,454 victory last Saturday in the 55th 500-mile at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway gave him a four-for-five record this year, counting the two-heat race at Rafaela, Argentina, as two races. He won eight of his last nine in the phenomenal drive that gave him the 1970 USAC big car crown.

He has used three different cars in the spectacular streak, which would have included the first 500-mile last fall at California's new Ontario track if his engine hadn't swallowed a handful of sand while he ran far ahead of the field.

The venerable Indianapolis race left 28 persons injured and one of the world's most expensive junk piles, which included Mark Donohue's Mark 16 McLaren which had set a new speed standard for the ancient track.

Donohue and his car appeared to be the class of the field as he ran away from the crowd for the first 150 miles. Then he stripped his high gear. He parked the car in the infield where it was demolished by the careening racers of Mike Mosley and Bobby Unser after Mosley's suspension failed.

Mosley USA's fourth-ranked driver last year, remained in serious condition today in an Indianapolis hospital with multiple fractures and burns. Bobby Unser, brother of the winner and himself a former 500 champ, was not hurt but lost a certain second place when he crashed trying to miss Mosley.

The 55th running of the classic, a Memorial Day event before Congress tinkered with the calendar, was marred at the start when an amateur driver lost control of the pace car and hit a photographers' stand.

The most seriously injured person was Dr. Vicente Alvarez, 52, a Buenos Aires physician-surgeon who has been taking a May vacation for 13 years to write authoritative, self-illustrated articles on spring auto racing in the United States. He suffered a basal skull fracture and remained in critical condition today.

Peter Revson, veteran sports car driver in a car almost identical to Donohue's, finished second, a jpot worth $103,198.

A. J. Foyt Jr., trying for an unprecedented fourth Indy victory, had trouble with turbo-sion.

In other Dixie Association games Monday the scores were: Savannah 2, Shreveport 0; Dallas-Fort Worth 5, Amarillo 4; San Antonio 4, Albuquerque 0; Charlotte 5, Birmingham 4; Memphis 8, Jacksonville 5; Asheville 11-1, Montgomery 9-3.

Durocher Speculates on His Fate

By D. BYRON YAKE Associated Press Sports Writer PITTSBURGH (AP) — Leo Durocher won't deny that his days as manager of the Chicago Cubs may be numbered.

"I've been in this game a long time," he said Monday after the Cubs lost 6-0 to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"There is no manager who is not vulnerable. And when the time comes—today, tomorrow, next week or next year—when it happens, am I going to be a baby about something like that?"

"That's a lot of bull. 'If anybody wants to know what's going to happen, have him call Mr. Wrigley (the team owner) or Mr. Holland (team vice president).'"

The Cubs have now lost 10 of their last 13 games, have been shut out two games straight by the Pirates—Monday by Steve Blass who scattered five hits—and are hurting because of injuries and a weak bullpen which has picked up only one save all season.

"You put the eight best men on the field," said the 64-year-old Durocher, in his sixth year with the Cubs. "You can't go out and pick up the ball for them."

"I know one thing. They're trying, giving 100 per cent. That's all I ask of anybody. There's no blame to put on anyone."

Durocher was thrown out of the game Monday in the fifth inning for protesting a third strike call to his pitcher, Ferguson Jenkins.

SHAVING STROKES

by Frank Beard

If you put a man on a rapidly revolving pedestal, his arms would fly out horizontally. That's the natural way for an animal of our physical characteristics to swing, say, a baseball bat.

Unfortunately, it is not the way to swing a golf club, which is an unnatural set of movements that must be perfected through constant repetition. That's why the pros hit a thousand balls a week.

The golf swing is more of a vertical swing. I've seen some baseball players, like Mickey Mantle, who swing at a golf ball with a flat, horizontal action, and get great distance. But I'm afraid they aren't very consistent.

The key is to feel that you are getting your right shoulder up behind your right ear and your left shoulder under your chin. It will feel awkward at first, but it's the way to play golf well, and eventually it will seem natural—almost.

SPORT SHORTS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Chris Everet, top-ranked in 16 girls singles, and Harold Solomon, second-ranked junior annexed titles in the 14th annual Tulsa Tennis Club Invitational tournament Monday.

Miss Everet, from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., defeated Mrs. Mary Ann Eisel Curtis 6-0, 6-3 for the women's singles honors. Solomon rallied past Zan Guerry, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1, in an all-Rice University men's singles final.

charger pressure and the down-pushing spoiler on the tail of his Coyote and had to settle for third place.

One of the most durable drivers in the field was Foyt's teammate, Donnie Allison, who finished sixth, flew to Charlotte for a second place in the 600-mile stock car classic there, then flew back in time to attend the Indianapolis victory dinner Sunday night.

MONDAY'S STARS By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BATTING — Amos Otis, Royals, drove in six runs with a pair of homers and a pair of singles in Kansas City's 7-3, 9-4 doubleheader sweep against Boston—the first twinnish the Red Sox have lost at home since 1966.

PITCHING — Tommy John, White Sox, limited Baltimore to five hits and blanked Orioles 1-0 in first game of a doubleheader.

SPORT SHORTS By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS ROME (AP) — Joe Frazier, a better gate-attraction as a slugger than a singer, brought his singing group, the Knockouts, here to show the Italians that his voice is as powerful as his punches.

Frazier, undefeated world heavyweight champion who has drawn less crowds than expected in his singing tour of Europe, said Monday that singing is no less demanding than boxing.

"I burn more energy singing than boxing," he said. "That's how I keep my weight down."

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Gene Whipp of Kettering, Ohio, piloted his 7-litre Hydroplane "Heavy Hauler" to victory Monday in the feature race of the Lake Decatur Memorial Day Water Festival.

HIRE THE VETERAN AND YOU HIRE EXPERIENCE!

Experience in dozens of fields. Hundreds of specialties. From clerks to engineers . . . bricklayers to restaurant managers. And almost any other field you can think of. You can provide additional training on-the-job using the GI Bill or MDTA.

Murphy Death Plane Is Discovered

By BILL BASKERVILL
Associated Press Writer
ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — The wreckage of a chartered airplane carrying World War II hero Audie Murphy and five other men has been found on a rugged mountaintop near here. Pathologists worked today trying to positively identify the bodies removed from the wreckage Monday by rescue workers and taken to Roanoke Community Hospital.

Spokesmen at the state medical examiner's office here said it probably would be late afternoon—possibly Wednesday—before positive identifications could be established.

The rescue workers said three bodies might be identified by physical features, but the other three were burned so badly they were unrecognizable.

"All indications point to the fact that it is Audie," said Lincoln Carle, the 46-year-old Murphy's business manager. "We don't have positive identification but everything else matches."

As the nation's most decorated World War II hero, Murphy received 24 medals from the American government, three from the French and one from the Belgians.

He won the Medal of Honor after he mounted a burning American tank and, although wounded, held off with a .50-caliber machine gun German troops which were advancing on him from three sides.

Besides the Medal of Honor he won the Distinguished Service Cross, the Legion of Merit, the Silver Star with Oak Leaf cluster, the Bronze Star and the Croix de Guerre. He also received the Purple Heart with two Oak Leaf clusters.

Murphy who rose to lieutenant also was commended for having killed 240 German soldiers.

Murphy had been flying to Martinsville 60 miles south of here on business. The plane went down Friday morning but the crash went undetected three days because of bad weather and because no flight plan had been filed.

Numbers still visible on the tail of the twin-engine Aero Commander matched those on the aircraft in which Murphy and five others had boarded in Atlanta. The wreckage was spotted Monday on the north side of 3,056-foot Brushy Mountain about 14 miles northwest of here. It was reached later in the day by rescue workers, who had to hike four miles up the steep mountain terrain.

The five persons who boarded the plane with Murphy were Claude Crosby, president of Modular Management, a subsidiary of Modular Properties Inc. of Atlanta; Jack Littleton of Fort Collins, Colo., secretary-treasurer of Lenoir Corp.; Raymond Prater, a Chattanooga, Tenn., lawyer representing Modular Management; Kim Dody of Fort Collins, Colo., a friend of Littleton; and the pilot, Herman Butler of Denver, Colo.

Murphy turned to business several years ago after a 44-movie career that included "To Hell and Back," a film based on his autobiography, and "The Red Badge of Courage."

He recently produced his first movie, "A Time for Dying," to be released later this month in which he played a cameo role and, said Carle, "gave one of his finest performances, as short as it was." Murphy's son Terry also had a brief part in the film.

Carle said plans were in the works for another picture in Mexico.

The plane, a propjet, last was heard from Friday morning when Butler radioed the flight service station at Roanoke's Woodrum Airport to advise he planned to land there in 40 minutes.

Rain and low ceiling at the time made a landing approach through the mountainous region hazardous.

Because the Murphy party had filed no flight plan, the Federal Aviation Administration said no reports had been received the plane was missing until Sunday afternoon.

Rainy, overcast weather made a search impossible until the skies cleared Monday.

A trooper said the plane "went in with tremendous force."

Three bodies were found in the plane; three were thrown

Reports on Snuol Retreat Conflicting

By GEORGE ESFER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers attacked North Vietnamese troop concentrations on the edges of Snuol, and other allied aircraft struck inside the Cambodian rubber plantation town to cover the retreat of the badly battered South Vietnamese task force driven from the town, field reports said today.

South Vietnamese soldiers on the scene reported that about 200 of their men were killed or wounded Monday as they fought their way out of the besieged town about 90 miles north of Saigon.

However, the South Vietnamese command reported only six of its soldiers were wounded during the pullout and also claimed that allied air strikes and South Vietnamese tanks killed an estimated 700 North Vietnamese.

Eyewitnesses said the fleeing South Vietnamese left behind 80 tanks, armored personnel carriers, Jeeps and trucks and destroyed eight 105mm howitzers and four 155mm cannon that they could not carry. South Vietnamese fighter-bombers and U.S. helicopter gunships were sent in to destroy the abandoned vehicles and attack the enemy inside the town.

Sources at Loc Ninh, on the South Vietnamese side of the border about 20 miles southeast of Snuol, reported seeing two trucks filled with bodies of Saigon troops killed as they fought their way toward the border.

An armada of U.S. bombers and helicopter gunships covered both sides of Highway 13, the retreat route south from Snuol. But enemy troops were reported so close to the South Vietnamese on the highway that air attack was difficult.

The South Vietnamese reportedly fled the town because the North Vietnamese 5th Division had surrounded it and outnumbered the defenders about 4,000 to 2,000.

B52 bombers dropped 150 tons of explosives Monday night on enemy troop concentrations five miles northeast of Snuol to keep those North Vietnamese from joining in the pursuit of the Saigon forces.

In one of the heaviest days of air activity reported in eastern Cambodia this year, the U.S. Command said helicopter gunships flew about 375 missions and fighter-bombers flew about 45. Other sources said the bulk of the missions were in the Snuol region.

A spokesman for the South Vietnamese command, Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, said the withdrawal from Snuol "is part of the whole plan of operation in Cambodia during the rainy season" now under way.

Asked if the withdrawal was preplanned, Hien replied: "Yes, that is correct."

But last week, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, commander of South Vietnamese forces in Cambodia, told The Associated Press he planned to keep all eight of his task forces in Cambodia through the rainy season.

Two battalions of South Vietnamese troops had reinforced the task force at Snuol, but most of the other 9,000 troops in eastern Cambodia were too far away.

The capture of Snuol was a significant victory for the North Vietnamese. In addition to the psychological effect, it opened a new supply route for the North Vietnamese into the South Vietnamese provinces north of Saigon.

Elsewhere in Cambodia, terrorists in Phnom Penh attacked two billets for American servicemen with plastic bombs. One blast, at the villa used by the American military equipment delivery team, injured two enlisted men slightly, blew in a ground floor wall and wrecked several cars. Another explosion at a house occupied by five Marine guards at the U.S. Embassy blew in some of the windows but hurt no one.

Of 600 Only 13 POWs Want to Go Home to N. Vietnam, Says Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Only 13 of the 600 North Vietnamese prisoners of war tapped for repatriation this week have agreed to go home, official sources said today.

Nevertheless, the sources said, the Saigon government plans to go ahead with the release of prisoners off the coast of the demilitarized zone on Friday. North Vietnam has agreed to the arrangements.

The 647 POWs who have refused to be repatriated have until Thursday, the day before the turnover, to change their minds. One source indicated expectations that this might happen on orders from Hanoi, saying: "The prisoners have their own grapevine, and it's very good. They might get orders to return rather than stay."

The Foreign Ministry canceled a news conference today at which it was to outline arrangements for the transfer of the prisoners. Asked whether the cancellation meant the release of the POWs might also be delayed, a government official said, "It is very hard to tell at this time."

The press briefing was tentatively rescheduled for Wednesday.

U.S. officials have been concerned about any delay in the POW turnover because it marks the first time in the Vietnam war that the North Vietnamese have openly agreed in advance to receive repatriated prisoners. The Americans think this might be a step toward release of some of the 339 Americans known to be held prisoner in North Vietnam.

For this reason, some sources said, U.S. officials have put considerable pressure on Saigon officials to carry out the POW release according to the plans agreed upon by North and South Vietnam.

The South Vietnamese government originally offered to repatriate 570 prisoners because that was the number of "sick and wounded" North Vietnamese POWs on Phu Quoc island, the Saigon government's biggest POW camp.

When South Vietnamese officials began to count those willing to return home, however, they found only a few, the sources said.

"When that happened, the call went out to find any and every prisoner who might fit into the category of sick and wounded," said one source. In the process, the number of those eligible was raised to 660. The International Committee of the Red Cross is supervising the interrogations. To process them as speedily as possible, the POWs are assembled in groups and asked to volunteer to go home. Those who refuse are then questioned individually.

Revenue Sharing Not Urban Way —Mills

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee says the nation's major cities will not be allowed to founder, but denies that federal revenue-sharing is the way to save anything.

Mills said Monday that he has alternatives to revenue-sharing. He did not specify the alternatives.

"We're not going to let the large cities go down," he told a news conference here following an address to a joint session of the legislature.

Although Mills declined to mention any specifics, but repeated his stand that he does not consider federalization of welfare programs a substitute for revenue-sharing.

On other topics, Mills said: "He is not and has no desire to be a candidate for president or vice president."

—His aim at the next Democratic National Convention will be full partnership for the South.

—He has "serious reservations" about the government making direct loans to business which must be poorly managed."

The Nixon administration's revenue-sharing proposal comes up Wednesday before the Ways and Means Committee. Mills, who said he hopes to preside over its funeral, said he would conduct extensive public hearings on the issue.

House-Nixon Showdown on Revenue Split

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic leaders are going all-out to win the first head-to-head battle between the administration and Congress over one of President Nixon's revenue-sharing plans.

They are billing Wednesday's vote on a manpower bill as one of the year's most important in an effort to rally Democrats behind a public-service-employment bill being offered as an alternative to Nixon's plan.

The showdown is a result of a surprise victory two weeks ago by Republicans and Southern Democrats who forced Nixon's $2-billion manpower revenue-sharing plan to the floor over leadership opposition.

Unwilling to risk a vote at that time, the leadership pulled back its jobs bill and has been applying pressure ever since in an effort to turn back the GOP challenge.

The leadership's target is a group of 45 Southern Democrats who helped Republicans revive Nixon's manpower bill last May 18 when it was thought to be safely buried in committee. The coalition won a procedural vote, 210 to 182, making it possible for Republicans to offer their bill as a substitute for the Democrats' $5-billion public-service jobs proposal.

Helping the leadership woo Southerners back to the fold has been Rep. Wilbur C. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and an arch foe of revenue sharing. Mills is sounding more and more like a presidential candidate in speeches around the country, and his image as one of the most powerful members of Congress would be dimmed if the Nixon plan wins.

In the campaign to influence Southern Democrats, Mills is pitted against Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., 83-year-old chairman of the Rules Committee, who pulled off the coalition's surprise coup two weeks ago.

Space Station

A manned structure in permanent orbit around the earth, long discussed by space scientists as a practical possibility, may be rapidly approaching realization. The Soviet launchings of a reportedly huge unmanned craft and a three-man capsule for a subsequent rendezvous were seen as steps in this direction. An orbiting station along with a space shuttle to service it are major American projects to follow the series of moon landings. As envisaged independently by artists in both countries, the projected space stations show strong similarities. The Soviet version, above, consists of tubular segments linked to a central core. The American concept, left, shown docked with the space shuttle, is designed on the same lines.
